

Fire Safety - Personal Emergency Evacuation Plans

Introduction

This course is designed to assist staff to arrange a Personal Emergency Evacuation Plan (PEEP) for those that require one on your premises.

Under current fire safety legislation it is the obligation of the person(s) having responsibility for the building to provide a fire safety risk assessment that includes an emergency evacuation plan for all people likely to be in the premises, including disabled people, and how that plan will be implemented (HM Government, 2007).

As the responsible person for the building you must:

- Carry out a fire risk assessment of the premises and review it regularly
  - Tell staff or their representatives about the risks you've identified
  - Put in place, and maintain, appropriate fire safety measures
  - Plan for an emergency
  - Provide staff information, fire safety instruction and training

Managing those with disabilities, be it permanent or temporary (broken leg or ankle!), is essential in the first few minutes of an evacuation. Where time is critical practitioners must not rely on their best instincts, but instead follow the clear practices each organisation or setting has. To assist practitioners this course will look at setting up and delivering a personal evacuation plan, as well as looking at the various methods of implementing a Personal Emergency Evacuation Plan (PEEP).

Please note the online course and joining instructions will be sent to you prior to the course start time. We recommend that all delegates log in to the session in plenty of time to avoid any technical delays.
